Jan 24: The Leader's Protocol®: Bringing Out the Best in Every Employee

This session explores how to leverage the untapped asset that's already on your payroll! Participants will learn to identify and target the core of their team; discover what the silent majority of their workforce actually wants; create a personal, actionable engagement plan for every employee; and master the protocol and techniques required to develop the capacity of Solid Citizens. By surveying more than 6,000 workers around the world, Mr. Don Brown has identified what to stop, start and continue doing to increase your return-on-leadership. Get ready for honest and sometimes shocking discoveries. While the findings may astound you, the simple truths will strengthen you exponentially!

Mr. Don Brown is author of Bring Out the Best in Every Employee and What Got You Here Won't Get You There--In Sales. He earned an Honors Degree from Michigan State University in foreign languages, a Masters in Management with Dr. Hersey at California American University and has enjoyed guest faculty status for Pepperdine University's Graziado School of Business and Management and UC Executive Education.

Feb 15: Creating High-Performance Teams

We desperately seek out one another to collaborate over time. Yet our will to collaborate often weakens when problems arise that erode our trust in one another or in the system under which we are often forced to operate. This workshop is designed to look at what makes teams succeed and fail. During the session, we will discuss the requirements for effective teaming, the common interpersonal obstacles we often face, and leadership strategies for overcoming these barriers.

Dr. Harvey Robbins is author or coauthor of six books, including Why Change Doesn't Work and the best seller Why Teams Don't Work. He is President of Robbins & Robbins and has consulted for numerous groups, including 3M, AT&T, Allied Signal, American Express Financial, General Dynamics, Honeywell, Johnson & Johnson, and Toro.

Mar 22: Developmental and Performance-based Coaching for Today's Workforce

Your individual development plan may be the single most important document to advance your career. You will depart this workshop with your personal plan and the skills and tools to coach and develop Millennials and other career minded staff members on your team. Participants will learn and experience the connection of effective coaching and feedback to each manager's team to be able to improve their ability to execute consistently. In the majority (around 70%) of executive failures, the real problem isn't bad strategy. The real problem is bad execution, according to the Fortune Magazine article titled, "Why CEOs Fail". At its core, execution comes down to setting clear expectations and regular coaching and feedback.

Oct 23: A Master Class in Strategic Thinking for Senior Managers and Executives

This session will give audience participants a clear look at how to think about crafting a strategy that builds a distinctive competitive advantage. The first part of the session looks at the four essential ingredients of strategy: clear mission and vision, choice of competitive strategy, economic basis of profit, and critical success factors. We then apply these ingredients to sharpen our understanding of 1) customers' needs, 2) competitors' moves, 3) attaining strategic alignment, 4) innovating for the future, and 5) preparing for disruption. A variety of individual and group exercises will encourage participants to actively use these frameworks in a way where they can actually apply their ideas in their workplaces too.

Dr. David Lei is Associate Professor of Strategy and Entrepreneurship at the Edwin L. Cox School of Business at Southern Methodist University in Dallas, Texas. He has co-authored the book, "Strategic Management: Building and Sustaining Competitive Advantage". He has also consulted with a wide variety of companies in the past 15 years including Fidelity Investments, IBM, Microsoft, Verizon and Texas Instruments.

Nov 07: Influence and Action: The Core of Leadership

As a leader, you will be expected to influence others, including your team, your superiors, and managers in different departments, as you build support for change and implement new programs. This seminar will examine the qualities and skills of leaders who get "extraordinary" things done under tight time and resource constraints. We will discuss how to get people to embrace change, how to build trust and credibility, how to manage the politics of relationships, and how to inspire those around you to follow your lead.

Dr. Robert J. Bies is Professor of Management and Founder of the Executive Master's in Leadership Program at the McDonough School of Business at Georgetown University. In addition, he is co-author of the book, Getting Even: The Truth About Workplace Revenge - And How to Stop It.

Dec 04: Powerful Communication: Craft and Deliver your Message with Authority and Authenticity

Effective communication can impress people but powerful communication can move people to action. This course identifies the elements of powerful communication and teaches the participants how to harness and utilize their own individual skills to become a communicator that persuades, inspires, and transforms. The course will be highly interactive with group exercises, skills assessment, demonstrations, critiquing and opportunity for on-site application.
