POWER UP YOUR DAY: MASTER TIME AND FOCUS TO BOOST PRODUCTIVITY

Are you feeling overwhelmed and exhausted at the end of the day and wondering when you're going to get all your 'stuff' done?

- 82% of people do not have a dedicated time management system
- 33% of people use a "To Do" list to manage their time and tasks
- On average, people waste 1.5 hours (91 minutes) each day on tasks and meetings that aren't important to their role

Bill G. Williams will deliver a high energy, 3-hour workshop that will allow you to own your time.

Do you know what's truly important to you? You certainly know what's urgent. Understand the difference between urgent and important.

Learn the most successful time management strategy, the Eisenhower Matrix. 50% of people who use it feel their work is under control every day, The other 50% of people who use it feel their work is under control 4 days of the week. You'll also learn how to stay out of the 'Bermuda Triangle' of the time matrix and where you should be spending your time.

Follow your 'North Star'!

BILL WILLIAMS

He's called "Electric Bill" for a reason. Bill Williams is on a mission to shock us out of our static daily routines. He is known for his unique brand of electrified methodologies for the workplace, now available to you in electric Life.

Bill's honest, succinct, and enthusiastic approach to leadership has inspired and reshaped countless national organizations over the span of thirty years. Whether coaching an individual over Zoom, or speaking to rooms of more than a thousand delegates, Bill's impact is equally felt. His power comes from hearing "No" and reformulating it as "Not Yet."

Bill is the CEO of the boutique leadership development firm, The B4 Group Inc, and the host and brand ambassador for The Art of Leadership Signature Summit / The Art of Leadership Women. Bill caters his solution-based strategies to individuals and corporations in the private, public, and not-for-profit sectors.
